

The Washington Post
For and about WOMEN

CPYRGHT

SUNDAY, MAY 5, 1963

F21

YOUNG HOSTESS AT HOME—Six-year-old Anne Killifer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Killifer, of McLean, stands in the long drawing room of the Charles Goodman-designed contemporary home of her parents.

Photos by Wally McIlhenny, Staff Photographer

CPYRGHT

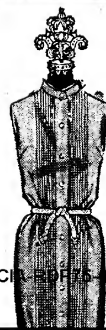

CPYRGHT

MURAL BY MOTHER

The dining room of the McLean home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Scoville Jr. is dominated by a mural (right) painted by Mrs. Scoville ten years ago. It represents the Scoville's four children. The Scoville house will be open to the public on McLean's third annual House and Garden Tour on Wednesday, May 8th.

Approved For Release 2001/08/20 : CIA-RDP75-0001R000200430008-1

CASUAL CORNER

Tour McLean By Bus

McLEAN'S third annual House and Garden Tour on Wednesday, May 8th, will be a busman's holiday—and yours, too.

So don't drive up to the six selected front doors in your own car. Park your car at one of the three centrally located parking areas and catch one of the fleet of buses there. Price of the tour ticket, $3, includes the bus ride.

No spike heels, if you please, ladies. Those spikes tear up the turf and dent the polished hardwood floors of some of the finest homes of McLean. The tour brochure makes a point against less pointed heels.

None of the six small estates has been open to the public before. All are full of charm and surprises. Homes chosen by Mrs. Miller Rosengren, permanent chairman of the tour, combine the past with the present. Historic furnishings compete with ultra modern decor. Traditional style vies with 20th century chic and sophistication.

The homes on tour include that of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Bragdon (Dr. Bragdon is executive director of the National Diet Heart Study; Mr. and Mrs. Willis S. Fitch (he is a technical adviser on the aerospace industry to the U. S. Government); Mr. and Mrs. Tom Killefer (he is executive director of the International American Development Bank); Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Putnam (he is an author currently working on a biography of Theodore Roosevelt); Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Scoville, Jr. and Architect and Mrs. David Norton.

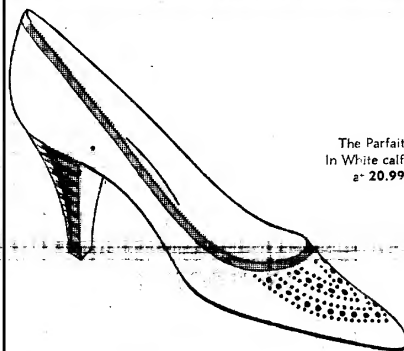

The tour is for the benefit of the McLean Boys Club. Flowers for each of the six houses will be arranged by the six garden clubs of the McLean area under the chairmanship of Mrs. Thomas H. Garber.

The tour begins at 11 a. m. and continues until 5 p. m. Lunch will be served at St. Johns Episcopal Church on Old Georgetown pk. from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. Tea will be served from 3 to 5 p. m. Parking areas are on the grounds of the McLean Baptist Church, Trinity Methodist Church, and at Langley Ridge rd.

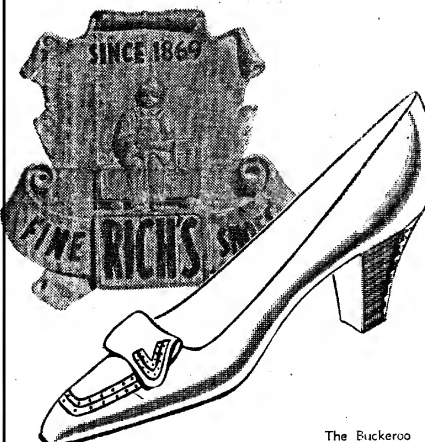

CPYRGHT GATEWAY TO CHARM:

This wrought iron door was designed by Mrs. Willis S. Fitch, of McLean, as a birthday gift for her husband. The door is to be fitted with detachable screen and glass panels to make it useful both summer and winter. The door will swing open on Wednesday, May 8th, for incoming visitors on McLean's third annual House and Garden Tour.

The Parfait
In White calf
at 20.99

The Buckaroo
In white calf,
also light beige or black calf at 19.99

The Tippy
In white calf, also in light beige or navy calf at 20.99

CPYRGHT

ebacher

1133 Connecticut Ave.

